TEN DEATHS REPORTED AS SEASON'S FIRST HURRICANE ROARS INTO TEXAS COAST

By The Associated Press

Hurricane Audrey, whipping the waters of the Gulf of Mexico into nine-foot tides, roared into the Texas coast below Port Arthur early today.

The New Orleans Weather Bureau's morning advisory said the hurricane, the first of the season and already responsible for at least 10 deaths, packed winds of 100 m.p.h. or better near its center.

Reports from Sabine, Tex., the bureau said, cited winds of 75 m.p.h. and tides of seven feet before communications failed in the area.

High winds and heavy rains of four to eight inches were forecast through western Louisiana and extreme eastern Texas with hurricane warnings displayed along the entire Louisiana coast.

Nickerson To Have Chance To Tell Story

By BEM PRICE

Huntsville, Ala. (AP)—Sometime today Col. John C. Nickerson Jr. is expected to tell a 10-man court-martial why he spilled secret defense information to "unauthorized persons."

His appearance on the witness stand follows that yesterday of Dr. Werner von Braun, one of the world's foremost missile experts. Nickerson's testimony is expected to follow the lines laid out in his "Considerations of the Wilson Memoranda."

On Nov. 26 Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson assigned development of a 1,500-mile intermediate range ballistic missile (IRBM) to the Air Force and limited the Army to the use of a 200-mile range missile.

The "Considerations" authored by the 41-year-old colonel, a 1938 graduate of West Point, state that one of Wilson's scientific advisers had found the Army missile, Jupiter, superior to that of the Air Force's IRBM Thor, and recommended abandonment of the latter program.

"Right To Travel" Decision Will Be Appealed By Artist

Washington (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals today upheld the State Department's right to deny passports to persons who refuse to sign non-Communist oaths.

The court ruled in the case of Dr. Walter Briehl, Los Angeles psychiatrist, and artist Rockwell Kent.

Both had refused to sign non-Communist affidavits in connection with their passport applications. The court divided 5-3 in each case.

At his home in Ausable Forks, N. Y., Kent told The Associated Press he "definitely" would appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

"I wouldn't be pursuing this thing unless I believed denial to travel was absolutely unconstitutional," Kent said.

He contended that the "right to travel" was given to the Anglo Saxons in the Magna Carta and had "been enjoyed by people all these centuries." He added that the right was also "mentioned" in the Ninth Amendment to the Constitution.

Leader Comment Sets Off Wide Speculation On 1958 Campaign

By LEONARD A. UNGER

Harrisburg (AP)—The time for Gov. Leader to announce formally his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator was reported today to be several months in the future.

One of the governor's close associates, who declined quotation by name, said an announcement might not be made until after the Nov. 5 general election.

The associate said there was little doubt however, that the governor would seek the nomination despite his statement yesterday at the Governor's Conference in Williamsport, Pa.

The Leader development opened new speculation on the lineup of taxide candidates next year.

Both Republicans and Democrats have agreed the record of the 1957 legislature will be a principal campaign issue. Pennsylvania voters will choose,

New Racket Is Pulled on Barber in New Jersey

Union City, N. J. (AP)—A man came into Jerry Provitera's barber shop and asked for "the works"—a haircut, shave and shampoo.

After stepping down from the chair, he turned to a youngster waiting his turn and said, "Wait here for me after you get your haircut." Then he walked out of the shop.

Provitera clipped the lad's hair, and, after finishing the job, asked him where his father was.

The boy burst into tears. "That man isn't my father. He met me on the street and said I needed a haircut. I don't have any money."

The tense drama began shortly after a softball game on the hospital grounds. Dr. Judge was sitting on a chair watching the

Somebody Better Give Patricia Tape Measure

Greensboro, N. C. (AP)—Ever hear of a beauty contest winner who doesn't know her own measurements?

Patricia Burt, Miss Gullford County of 1957, knows she's 5 feet 5 and that she weighs 115 pounds. But as to the rest of her?

"I just haven't bothered to find out," she says.

Balky Witness Invokes New Court Ruling

Washington (AP)—For the first time in an open Senate hearing, a witness today invoked a new Supreme Court decision and refused to say whether he was a Communist while he had access to official government messages.

Howard V. Trautman of New York, who was identified by a fellow member of a Communist cell, was the balky witness before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee.

An operating technician for RCA Communications Inc., Trautman declined to answer a Communist membership question on grounds it invaded rights of free speech, press and assembly guaranteed under the First Amendment to the Constitution.

He said that under a June 17 Supreme Court ruling in the Watkins case he cannot be compelled to testify about his "beliefs, expressions or associations." He also contended the question exceeded the jurisdiction of the subcommittee, which he said was operating under "unlawful delegation of power" from the Senate.

Sen. Hruska (R-Nebr.), serving as a one-man subcommittee, warned Trautman he was acting at his own peril and suggested the possibility of contempt of Congress action against him, either in a court or before "the bar of the Senate."

The hearing brought into sharp focus the confusion and uproar that followed recent Supreme Court decisions affecting rights of individuals before congressional committees and in criminal trials in courts.

The problem came under discussion in President Eisenhower's weekly conference today with Republican congressional leaders. Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said afterward that Eisenhower recognizes a "very real problem" growing out of the court's decision in the Jencks case.

This decision would require the government under certain circumstances to show defendants FBI evidence against them.

Armed Inmates Are Foiled in Escape Effort at Farview

Scranton, (AP)—Eight armed inmates, two of them murderers and six of them robbers, held the assistant superintendent of Farview State Hospital for the Criminal Insane, Waymart, captive for 30 minutes last night before he persuaded them to give up.

Held hostage by the dangerous patients was Dr. Charles A. Judge, who was locked in an eight-foot square hallway with his captors. He said he was not afraid at any time.

The tense drama began shortly after a softball game on the hospital grounds. Dr. Judge was sitting on a chair watching the

CORRECTION, ADDITION TO MARDI GRAS EVENTS

Jaycee Mardi Gras Committee Chairmen have announced these additions and corrections to the list of events which was published Wednesday and which will be published again Friday. For one thing, the Soap Box Derby Awards Banquet scheduled for 7 p. m. Saturday at Beatty Cafeteria was omitted entirely as was the public race inspection from 7 to 9 p. m. Friday at Beatty gym.

And two corrections: presentation of the Key to the City to Miss America will be held at 4:30 p. m. Tuesday in downtown Warren, rather than the time originally listed, and JC Golf Tournament at Kinzua is scheduled for 1 p. m.

Allegheny River Between the Two Bridges To Be Scene of Exciting Competition Sunday

SPEED MERCHANTS—Speed merchants, speed devils, stuntmen, sportsmen (with ambulances and crash boats standing by) will all troop down Allegheny River banks Sunday for participation in outboard motor boat races sponsored by Jaycees. A thrill a minute will be provided spectators lining banks from Hickory Street Bridge to Chestnut Street. Races start at 1 p. m. Come early, get a comfortable knoll.

According to latest information received from Jaycees concerning Boat Races to be held Sunday June 30, on Allegheny River from Hickory Street Bridge to West Side Pennsylvania Railroad Bridge, the number of entries expected for the afternoon is now near 125 boats.

Competition should be keen considering the large number of entries which will range from five and a half horsepower to 25 horsepower.

Bill Yeager is supervising Civil Defense crash boats and the CD duck which will serve as a judges stand anchored off shore. The CD is planning to use their radio communications facilities to improve on rescue work and thus keep the races running swiftly and smoothly. The CD duck will be piloted by Harry Fulmore and George Shirey will be on hand with the crash rescue truck on shore.

Drivers of the six crash boats are Chuck Lane assisted by Bill Lane, Jim Keller assisted by Harry Cooper, Bill Lemon assisted by Don Sharp, Albert Wood assisted by Ray Simonsen, Gifford Clark assisted by Fred Laughenberger, and Chuck Johnson assisted by Willard Johnson.

With the latest rainfall Allegheny river is expected to be deep enough, which was the only concern of Jaycees and the Tri-State Racing Association. Events of the day, winners of events, and other information to help the spectators understand what's going on will be broadcast over a P. A. system.

All those people who have long been intrigued by the high pitched whine of speedy racing craft and those who find this is their first opportunity to witness a good boat race are urged to be on hand Sunday afternoon. One last reminder: there is plenty of room for observing the races and best of all there is no charge at all—an afternoon of first rate entertainment absolutely free. See you at the races.

Rescued Miners In Good Shape After Being Trapped 14 Hours

By ARTHUR A. PARKS

Steubenville, Ohio (AP)—Five grimy miners, trapped for more than 14 hours by a cave-in, scrambled to safety last night through a hole which a huge mechanical auger had bored 230 feet into a hillside.

When the 42-inch auger was pulled from the hole, the miners followed it out one by one. They blinked at the floodlights which lit the desolate strip mine pit.

A great cheer rose from about a thousand persons—rescue workers, relatives, spectators and newsmen—as the miners rushed to their families, who had waited all day in the hot sun and far into the night.

Doctors examined the men quickly at a shack nearby and said they were not harmed by their ordeal.

"My God, it was cold in there," said Fred Sabol, 33, Harrisville, one of the first out.

The others are Hank Horvath, 35, Glenn Robbins; Martin Kovalski, 40, and Joseph Supinski, 47, both of Mount Pleasant; and Kenyan Hamilton, 38, Adena.

They were trapped at 8:15 a. m. in a small chamber 300 feet back in a horizontal mine shaft about 150 feet below the crest of a hill. Their rescue came at 10:50 p. m.

The shaft was an end one among seven at Betsy Mine No. 3 of the Powhatan Mining Co. The seven horizontal "punch mining" shafts were connected by an air passage, but the cave-in blocked it with

Governors Serve Notice That Tight Money Policy Pinches Efforts to Finance Schools

By JAMES GEARY

Williamsburg, Va. (AP)—Republican and Democratic governors collectively have served notice on the Eisenhower administration that its tight money policy is pinching their efforts to finance school buildings and other capital expenditures.

In a unanimous resolution, the 49th annual Governors Conference at its wrapup yesterday noted that "bonds have been floated at higher and higher interest rates, thus increasing amortization costs."

It asked the President and Congress to "take cognizance of this additional burden on the taxpayers of America with a view of alleviating" it.

The governors met Eisenhower's request for joint study with his administration of federal-state relationships by providing for a committee to work with the administration. The President had suggested such a study with an eye to rolling back to the states functions and revenues now controlled in Washington.

The conference named Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois as its chairman and designated Florida—probably Boca Raton—for next year's get-together. Republican Stratton succeeds Democratic Gov. Thomas B. Stanley of Virginia.

Thirty-two governors, in an action outside the conference, sent a telegram yesterday to the President urging a reduction of oil imports from the present ratio of 22 per cent of America's national production to 16.6 per cent. At about the same time Eisenhower was creating a special Cabinet committee to study whether crude oil is being imported "in such quantities as to threaten to impair national security."

The resolution on interest rates appeared to be a slap at the administration's policy of attempting to control inflation by upping interest rates.

Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania put forward the Democrats' resolution hitting at the tight money policy, and the final committee resolution was a compromise.

Pennsy Plans Pickup and Delivery at Tionesta

The Pennsylvania Railroad will inaugurate pickup and delivery service at Tionesta, if its application to change the station to a non-agency status is approved.

This was disclosed today at a Public Utility Commission hearing in the Forest County Courthouse at Tionesta, by A. P. Schunk, supervisor of freight stations for the PRR's Northern Region at Buffalo.

Mr. Schunk said there would be no change in the handling of carload traffic except that billing will be handled by the agent at nearby West Hickory, Pa.

He said that 75 per cent of less-than-carload patrons will be provided with doorstep pickup and delivery service. Other patrons outside the Pickup and Delivery Service limits will receive shipments at Tionesta station as at present.

Mr. Schunk related that carload traffic had declined 75 per cent since 1951 and that LCL traffic had dropped 68 per cent and that the change in the station's status would result in considerable savings.

Francis R. Smith, State Insurance Commissioner, yesterday rejected the request of the Middle Department Association of Fire Underwriters for increases that would have affected policies written by 357 companies.

The increases were sought for insurance coverage of houses, apartment houses, stores, business buildings, business stock and household contents. The proposed revisions would have amounted to 2.6 per cent of total statewide premiums, Smith said.

In his decision, the commissioner said the underwriters had not complied with the Fire Rating Act of 1947 requiring that the Rating Bureau show revisions were not excessive nor unfairly discriminatory.

He also noted that the department used an arbitrary zone system for establishing rates but had "not established that rates based on promulgated on a zone basis."

AUGUST DRAFT CALL—Harrisburg (AP)—Pennsylvania's August draft call was set at 735 yesterday by the State Selective Service. This is 286 less than the call in August, 1956.

$27,500 IN GARBAGE—Oakland, Calif. (AP)—The Concord branch of the Crocker-Anglo Bank, noting a shortage of $27,500, hurriedly asked its garbage collector to check his load. He came up with a deposit bag containing $27,500. "Were just not talking about this," said Manager Lawrence M. Roehmen.

Merchants May Have Additional Ballots

Charles R. Tranter, executive vice president of Warren Area Chamber of Commerce, advises merchants participating in the Jaycee Mardi-Gras Queen Popularity Contest that additional ballots may be had in his office at no extra cost; also that members of the Jaycee committee will be collecting the ballots on Saturday afternoon. Disarmament Is Considered A Step Nearer London (AP)—U. S. officials considered partial disarmament another step nearer today. Russia has accepted in principle an American plan for the big powers to transfer stocks of nonnuclear weapons to international control.

Long and complicated negotiations remained, however, before the plan could start working.

U. S. Delegate Harold E. Stassen proposed at yesterday's meeting of the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee the major nations draw up specific lists of their own armaments that they are willing to stockpile under international supervision. Later the weapons would be destroyed or converted to peaceful use.

The new formula was to meet British and French objections to previous proposals put forward by both the United States and Russia for cutting convention arms by some fixed percentage. Britain and France felt the earlier proposals would work to their disadvantage because of their smaller armies.

Stassen's new plan was given qualified approval by all other members of the subcommittee—Britain, France, Russia and Canada.

Soviet representative Valerian Zorin said Russia would go along with the idea and prepare a list. But he asked that the United States prepare the first list. Stassen would not commit the United States on that.

Stassen's formula affects only one phase of the disarmament problem, reduction of conventional weapons. The five-nation subcommittee also is seeking ways to cut the size of the armed forces and halt nuclear weapon testing and production.

Under the U. S. plan, the United States, Russia, Britain and France would draw up lists of planes, tanks, heavy guns, missiles, ships and other armaments they are willing to surrender. The lists would be presented to the U. S. subcommittee for agreement.

Work Detail Scheduled Monday To Erect Bleachers For Rodeo

With Jaycee Mid-Summer Mardi Gras scarcely more than a day away and with the announcement of the complete schedule in last night's Warren Times-Mirror, area residents are preparing themselves for a full round of activities, highlighted by the first appearance in Warren of the famous Black Diamond Rodeo.

In order to bring this feature attraction to Warren, the Jaycees have had to rent, beg, and borrow a great many bleachers so that all will be able to see the show with ease. Monday evening of next week, Jaycees will assemble at War Memorial Field to complete the erection of the two thousand or more seats that will be added to insure adequate seating capacity for the throng expected to crowd the Stadium to its limits.

While it is true that tickets may be purchased at the gate, because of the demand and the expected crowds, it would be well to purchase them in advance. Tickets are now on sale at the Warren "Drug Store in downtown Warren. While the Rodeo is a common

CONSTRUCTION CHIEF HEARD IN PIKE TRIAL

By BOB HOLTON

Harrisburg (AP)—A turnpike trial defendant was quoted in court today as telling a grand jury that he was "duped" into approving the contract which is now the center of conspiracy charges against nine men.

John D. Paul, ousted chief construction engineer for the Turnpike Commission, used the word in testimony last December before the special investigating grand jury which indicted the nine defendants.

The official grand jury record was read in open court today. It quoted Paul as saying the former chairman, Thomas J. Evans, a co-defendant, assigned him to supervise mine void filling along the northeastern extension because "I was the man who could, say, be duped, or carry out his orders to satisfaction."

The testimony dealt with a multi-million dollar contract granted without competitive bidding to Manu-Mine research and Development Co. of Reading.

The company billed the commission more than eight million dollars but the state contends the work was unnecessary.

Robert E. Wallower Jr., Dauphin County court reporter at the grand jury hearings, read his notes quoting Paul as saying Evans was a "dictatorial ruler" who "ran the thing (commission) with an iron hand."

"I'd compare him (Evans) to a rough, tough, hard-boiled second lieutenant," were Paul's words as read to the court.

During the reading of Paul's remarks about Evans the 73-year-old former agency head grinned several times. Never once did he look at Paul sitting next to him.

The grand jury testimony was read into the record over objection. (Turn to Page Eight)

Special Committee Is Named By Ike To Probe Oil Imports

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower has named a special committee to determine whether crude oil imports have reached levels which "threaten to impair" the security of the United States.

The committee was ordered yesterday to report its findings and recommendations at "the earliest practicable date."

Eisenhower has power under the tariff laws to restrict imports which threaten basic defense industries. Governors of 32 oil states had urged him a few hours earlier to curb crude oil imports on that ground.

The White House announcement said Secretary of Commerce Weeks will head the committee. Other members are Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Secretary of Interior Seaton and Secretary of Labor Mitchell.

It made no mention of the governor's request and it was apparent creation of the committee had been in the works ahead of their telegram.

show in the West, this is not true in the less-cowboy inclined East. But, with the advent of Wyatt Earp, Matt Dillon, Range Rider, and others, cowboys and their stunts have been on such an upswing that TV channels will be, almost solidly booked with Westerns next year.

In an effort to catch a little of the glamour of the Old West, the Jaycees have been fortunate in scheduling the renowned Black Diamond Rodeo, whose large entourage of daring acts, magnificent horses, thrilling cowboys and cowgirls, will keep spectators gapping in astonishment for a full two hours.

Not only have the Jaycees booked this outstanding attraction, but they have booked them for six performances so that all may have a choice of the best time to attend. Performances are scheduled for Thursday, July 4 at 2 and 8 p. m.; Friday, July 5 at 2 and 8 p. m.; and Saturday, July 6 at 1 and 9 p. m. The performance on Friday will be a children's matinee at which all children will be admitted for one-half the usual price.

"TEA AND SYMPATHY"

Headed in Right Direction--- SOAP BOX DERBY BOUND!

By MARY HARLAND

Now . . . it's Soap Box Derby time in Warren! One of the biggest events in the lives of 53 Warren County boys. Every boy dreams of crossing the finish line first in his Championship Race, but even though only one sees the checkered flag declare him the Warren County Champ, he isn't the sole winner. Every boy who actually translates his dream into reality and pilots it with his own skill down the straightway, proves to the world that he, too, has that extra something which makes a champion. Of course, the ultimate success of the Soap Box Derby in any town depends largely upon its sponsors. And in Warren, the race is co-sponsored by our leading newspaper, The Warren Times-Mirror, our Chevrolet dealer, Dan's Chevrolet, Warren Jaycees, who have contributed so much to civic activities, plus hundreds of adults who are interested in youth of the community, and the national sponsors, the Chevrolet Motor Division, of General Motors Corporation.

The Times-Mirror has done an outstanding job in publicizing the Derby, since its "kick off" in early February, bringing pertinent data to the boys on "How to Build to Win", where to register, and news of the grand prize for the winner.

Dan's Chevrolet, the official registration headquarters, ordered the wheel assemblies for each entrant, and the Jaycees planned Special Clinics for the registrants, and guided the boys throughout the long period of building, before the final inspections . . . and the goal . . . Race Date, this Saturday, June 29th.

All the boys entered in the 1957 Derby deserve a hearty salute, because this event has become so outstanding in every respect, that it has grown to be the Nation's topmost sporting competition for boys between the ages of 11 and 15. Win or lose, each boy shows that he has the qualities of sportsmanship, and ingenuity that qualify him as a good American. Win or lose, each boy realizes that he has a host of friends rooting for him to cross the finish line first because it means that he had the enthusiasm to build a Soap Box Racer and try.

Warren County's second annual Derby helps to harness the youthful energies of our boys and turn this tremendous vitality into building Soap Box Racers. And every boy who entered this year's competition is a winner when he builds a racer and goes down the track in the competitive heats, even if he loses his first heat.

The public is invited to watch this Big Event on Saturday, June 29th, at the Central Avenue site. There is no admission charge . . . it's a boy's event, and open to the public.

The Warren Times-Mirror will run a special Derby Edition Friday, with the pictures of the boys and their racers, and each boy's sponsor for the race.

Parents are urged to get tickets for the banquet at $1.75 from any Jaycee, or at the Times-Mirror office, according to Derby Director Dan Harland, who reminds that racers for this year's competition are now undergoing inspections, and anyone desiring to witness the safety checks, are asked to come to Beatty School any evening.

SUMMER

From the New York Times:

Summer comes, and July is just around the next corner. Summer which is a house wren singing, oblivious of the sun's beat in mid-morning and which is a wood thrush and a mourning dove at evening followed by the long reiteration of a whippoorwill as the darkness cools the day. Summer, and bees in clover, and nestlings trying first flight, and the haze of heat on the hilltops. Summer, and brooks all stony beds and trickling flow of water.

Primroses are deep pools of yellow, as summer comes, and roses are pink petals showering in country dooryards, old-fashioned cabbage roses, and pasture roses along the meadow fences with their faint, musky fragrance. Daisies are snowy drifts along the country roads, and elderberries come to blossom. Corn grows day and night, when summer comes, reaching toward tassel and silk and funneling the night's dew thirstily. Summer, and the gardener's hoe is busy, the peas are picked, the raspberries cluster the stems, green and fattening toward ripeness.

Summer, and vacationers are on the roads, down from the hills, up from the tidewater, seeking change, seeking sun, seeking cool, green shade. The first heat wave sears the land, and the thunderstorm growls and snarls and cracks its writhing whips. The mosquito seeks, and finds, its victims. Moths haunt the dusk and Junebugs bang the screens. The night hawk seizes the sky and the swallows stage their aerial circus after sunset.

Summer, and June trails away toward July, toward sweet corn, toward yellow squash, toward hammock days and terrace suppers and bathing suits and picnics. Summer, which always comes in June.

At its spring meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, the executive committee of the League of Red Cross Societies voted to terminate its operational responsibilities in Austria, but to lend some international staff to Austrian Red Cross.

The later will operate Hungarian Refugee Camps in Austria for about 18,000 refugees. Some ARC workers who have been in Austria since December, operating five of the League camps, are expected to remain a short time after June 30 to assist the Austrian Red Cross in administration. Both Austrian and Yugoslavian Red Cross Societies will continue to receive and welcome supplies.

The American Red Cross has committed $5,000,000 for what is described as "one of the greatest humanitarian efforts of our time". The amount, contributed by the American people during an emergency campaign last December, was used to help Hungarians inside their own country, in Austrian and Yugoslavian camps, aboard ships and planes bringing them to the United States, and at Camp Kilmer, N. J., reception center.

In addition, American Junior Red Cross has furnished supplies valued at $155,200 to young people among the refugees. More than 30,000 tons of gift supplies of all descriptions have been distributed to those in need. The food situation is gradually becoming normal, officials report, but there is still urgent need for textiles and medical supplies.

VOTE YOUR CHOICE FOR QUEEN

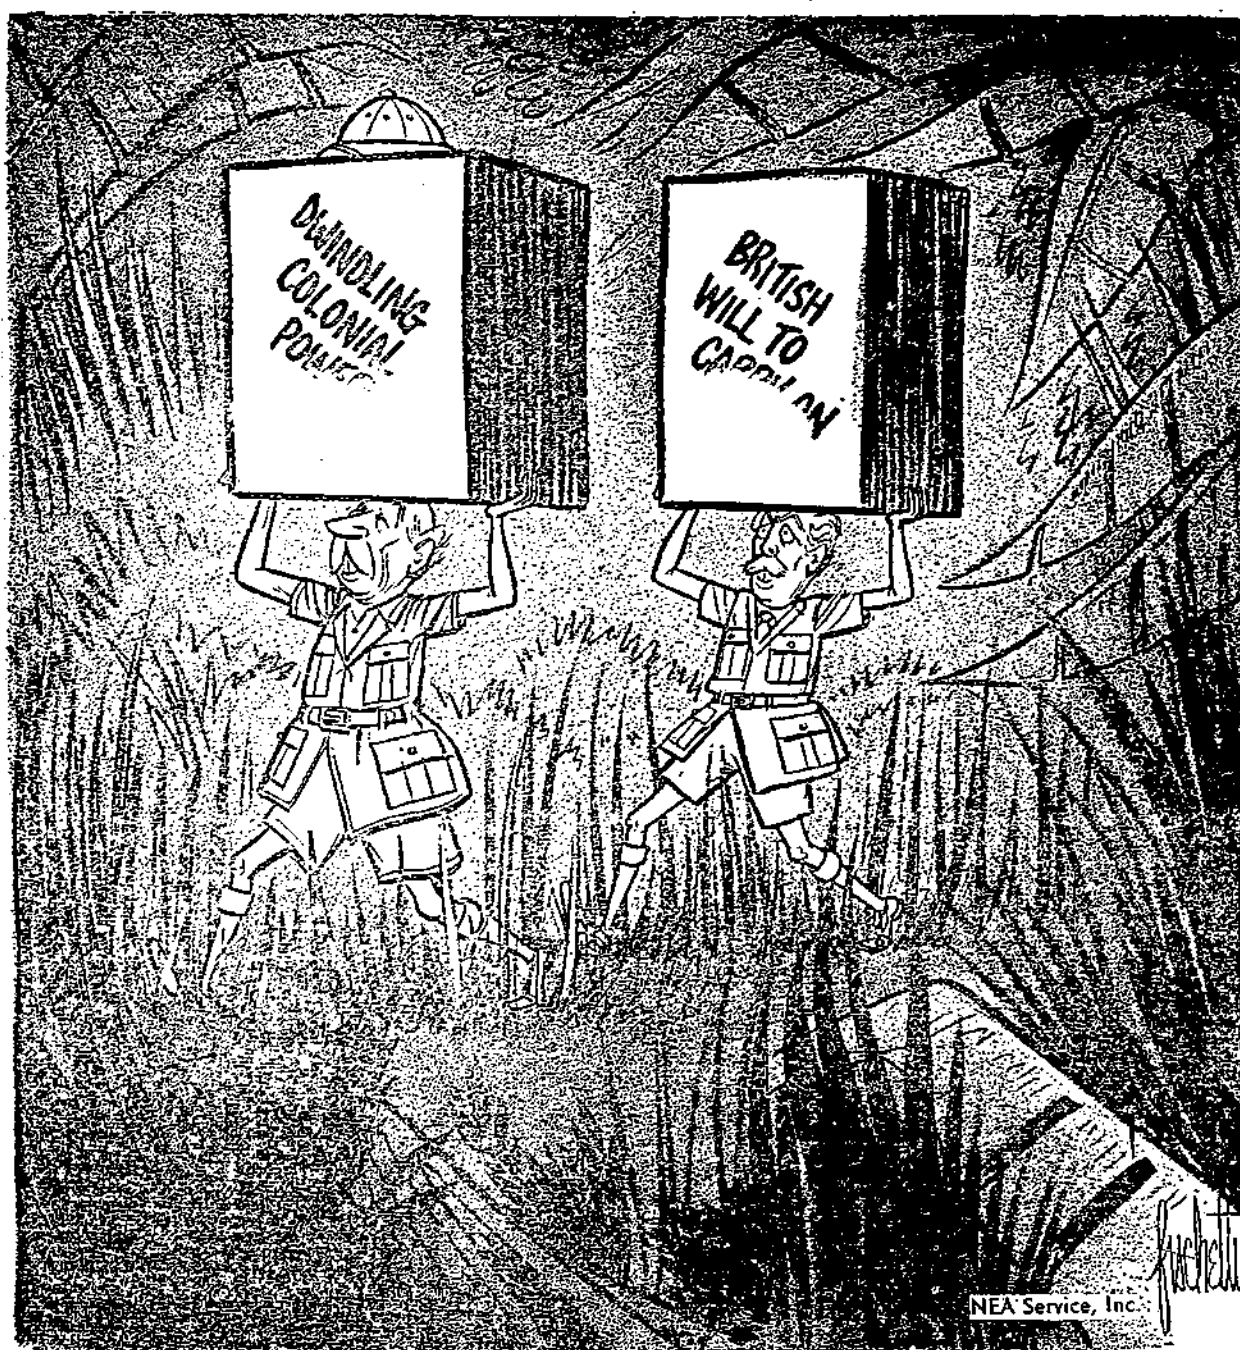

An article with pictures of the five contestants in the 1957 Warren County Queen Contest appearing on another page of this issue is a reminder that every person is privileged to cast a ballot for their choice of the young lady who will reign over the forthcoming Jaycees' Mid-Summer Mardi Gras which will get under way with the Soap Box Derby to be held Saturday afternoon on the Central avenue course, starting at one o'clock. Apply at your local retail store for ballots!

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation.—Hebrews 9:28.

Our sins are debts that none can pay but Christ. It is not our tears, but His blood; it is not our sighs, but His sufferings, that can testify for our sins. Christ must pay all, and we are prisoners forever.—Thomas Brooks.

Here and There

Remember when you were a boy—the dream you had and everything came out right? There are some 53 Warren county youngsters who are having those dreams right now! Just two more days now until Warren County's Second Annual Soap Box Derby—Saturday at Central avenue, beginning at one o'clock with the pre-race activity. For these lads it's really more than a dream. It's an ambition realized, a hope fulfilled. They are the boys who for several months now have planned a Soap Box Racer, constructed it and tested it on the hill nearest their home. They deserve a lot of credit. To the 53 individuals and firms who sponsored racers this event—the committee in charge says "thanks for your help!" When you watch Saturday's race, see the smile of happiness on the face of every youngster, and you'll feel a nostalgic happiness, too. For aren't these boys images of yourselves years ago? The public is invited to see the Derby without charge. It begins Saturday at one o'clock. The race course is laid out on Central avenue and Lincoln—parking is available! Better turn out!

A railroad news item of fifty years ago that should interest present-day readers is reprinted from The Warren Evening Mirror of June 26, 1907, as follows: "One day last week a number of Youngsville and Sugar Grove Railway men were in town looking over the proposed extension to Warren. Among the men who were in the group were John A. Day, of this village; J. D. Woodard, W. P. McClure and John Siegfried, of Warren. A trip was made over the grounds and many questions were discussed. The extension is now beyond a doubt and it is expected that work will be commenced at once. The trade will be a difficult one to make and somewhat expensive, owing to several big cuts and deep fills that will have to be made. The capital stock of the original company has been increased by $200,000 making the total capitalization $280,000. The legal steps of this movement have been under way for two weeks and up to last Saturday the books of the company were not open but it is thought that the deal will be concluded and that the books will be opened this week. Most of this additional stock will be taken by Warren men, but of course some of it will be taken by Youngsville parties. This matter has been under consideration for a considerable length of time and all that has hindered has been the securing of the right of way over certain pieces of property, but the new law giving trolley roads the privilege of eminent domain has made it possible to secure the entire right of way and proceed with the work."

And here's an article about the old suspension bridge that used to cross the river with the north approach just west of the VFW building, that gives an idea of some of the problems encountered by citizens back in 1907: "The Suspension bridge over the Allegheny river at the foot of Hickory street was closed to wagon traffic Friday afternoon so a new flooring could be laid. Workmen have been busy for a week cutting the heavy oaken planks to the sizes required. A new departure in laying the plank is being followed this time. Instead of laying the planks lengthwise with the bridge, they are being put down diagonally, it being thought in this way they will last longer and heavily loaded wagons will not be so liable to break through as they have done in the past. The lumber came from the southeastern part of the state near the Maryland line and is from the mills of Peterson, Gunning & Co., and is a very good quality of oak. Work is to be rushed and it is expected that the structure can be reopened for traffic by the latter part of next week. In the meantime the bridge at Gladerun will have to be used to reach Oakland cemetery and other points on the South Side."

A June ditty from the same edition about the June Bride that may be new to many follows: Here's to the June Bride, Blushing and fair, Treasuring sedately The wedding march rare. Cheeks like the lilies, Lips like the rose, Blessings upon her Wherever she goes! Here's to the June bride, Smiling her face, Gentle her mien is, Alluring her grace. Fairest of maidens, Queen of today May no grim shadows Darken her way! Here's to the June bride, Lovely and sweet, Picturesque flower, Dainty and neat. What of the bridegroom? Nothing to say. He gets the sweetest Bouquet today. —Horace Seymour Keller, in the New York Sun

Mrs. Dorothy Engstrom furnished appropriate organ music, and Ray Bennett sang "Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride selected floor length white chantilly lace and tulle, with scalloped sabrina neckline, long sleeves and bouffant skirt of tulle over lace. Her fingertip veil fell from a net crown, with seed pearls and sequins, and her flowers were a cascade of gardenias and white delphinium.

Attendants were her sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Gregersen as matron of honor, Mrs. Carol Decker of Gettysburg, the bridesmaid. The former wore mint green crystal-ette with darker piping and cummerbund, and carried a cascade of pink daisies; the latter, a pink

Commendable Recital by Music School Students

The Warren School of Music presented a large group of students in recital Tuesday evening in the music rooms of the Woman's Club. Lovely arrangements of summer flowers, throughout the rooms, provided a most delightful setting for the occasion.

The present Sam Donahue Band is composed of sixteen pieces, not counting Sam, and featured with the band is the only female pianist with a name band, Adelaide Robinson. Other individual stars in the World Toured Orchestra are handsome Ernie Bernhardt, male singer and jazz trumpeter, and lovely Dottie Dunn, a sensational vocal discovery and vibraphonist.

Pete Pepke compiled the following biological information from his copies of the Jazz Encyclopedia: "Saxophone Sam" was born in 1918, raised in Detroit and played his first professional gig in River Rouge, Michigan at the close of prohibition. From 1933 to 1933, the same Sam Donahue appeared on all the famous marquees for dances and shows across the country. In 1938, Sam gave up the band to join the Gene Krupa Band as musical director when Krupa went on his own. In 1940, Sam took over the tenor chair in the band of Benny Goodman and stayed until Harry James took Sam with him on his own new band in 1941. The next few years saw Sam on his own, recording with great success on the Okeh and Bluebird labels. During the war, Sam assumed leadership of the Artie Shaw Navy Band and surpassed even the Glenn Miller Band in popularity with the GIs, due largely to his broadcasts from Britain heard around the world. After the war, Sam led his own band, recording such hits as "Take Five", "Dinah", "Red Wing" and others for the new Capitol label. He also was on the faculty of the Harnett School of Music prior to his recall in the Navy in 1951. After six months in the service, he joined the Tommy Dorsey Band, leaving in 1954 to assume the leadership of the Billy May Band when Billy retired to the studios of Sunny California.

The Donahue Orchestra stops in Warren after successful and highly praised performances at Cedar Point, Ohio, the Idora Park Ballroom at Youngstown, Ohio, and Waldameer Beach Park at Erie, Pennsylvania. After their performance in Warren, the orchestra will head for the Steel Pier in Atlantic City.

To prepare Warren for the coming of this name band orchestra, Sam's newest release, an album on the Prescott label, will be featured on the Wednesday Early Morning Breakfast Show, conducted by Frank Files, over WNAE—and remember, the live music will be featured at the Coronation Ball, along with the Mardi Gras Queen and Miss America of 1957!!!

More Caution On Part of Drivers Is Urged By Officials

Harrisburg—"Pennsylvania drivers have a definite responsibility in operating their vehicles safely to protect the lives of the passengers they carry," Secretary of Revenue Gerald A. Gleason declared today.

Secretary Gleason made the statement in reporting the death of 100 persons in multiple fatal traffic accidents in 40 such crashes which have occurred in the Commonwealth for the period from January 1 to May 18, latest date for which figures are available. The figure represents an average of 2.5 deaths per accident.

"If a driver places no value on his own life," Secretary Gleason stated, "he certainly has an obligation to prevent death or injury to the passengers who entrust their lives to him. It's bad enough if a driver operates a vehicle in such a manner as to endanger his own life, but even worse to place in peril the lives of other innocent persons."

O. D. Shipley, Director of the Bureau of Highway Safety, said that while a satisfactory cause analysis is not possible in all these accidents, there is a prevalence of factors which would indicate excessive speed improper or unsafe passing, and loss of control (probably at high speed) are to blame for the majority.

SOCIETY

DR. AND MRS. NEIL M. DE STEFANO

A lovely summer wedding took place at 1:00 p. m. June 8 in St. Joseph's church, when Agnes Zablocki, daughter of Mrs. Melanie Zablocki and the late John Zablocki of Cranford, N. J., became the bride of Dr. Neil M. De Stefano, son of Mr. and Mrs. James De Stefano, 912 Fourth avenue.

The Rev. Edward Wojtchka, of St. Vincent de Paul's parish in Bayonne, N. J., and uncle of the bride, officiated for the double ring ceremony and nuptial mass. Mrs. Donald Edinger was at the organ and Clair Dahlgren sang "Fanis Angelicus", "Ave Maria" and "Mother, At Thy Feet Is Kneeling".

Given in marriage by another uncle, Dr. Bernard Wattiker of Leonia, N. J., the bride was lovely in chalk-white nylon chiffon, with scoop neckline outlined by crushed chiffon extending into back panels and drifting into the chapel sweep of the full gathered skirt. Her silk illusion fingertip veil was held by a coronet of crushed tulle, twined with pearls, her pearl ear-rings were the bridegroom's gift, and white flowers were a cascade of white roses and stephanotis.

As maid of honor for her sister-in-law, Jean De Stefano wore maize floor length nylon chiffon; bridesmaids, Christine Puleo and Michaelene Figliuzzi, cousin of the bride, were in turquoise nylon chiffon, and all carried lace parasols with yellow roses and summer flowers. Matching cords and sequin coronets held circular face veils.

Carl J. De Stefano, Pittsburgh, served as best man for his brother; ushers were Theodore S. Hoffman, Pittsburgh, and Harry W. Conarro, Jr., Warren.

Wearing white orchids, the bride's mother was attired in blue lace and nylon organza with matching accessories; Mrs. De

A Healthy Glow Is Summer Season's Beauty Bonus

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

EVERY season of the year offers you free beauty bonuses. Summer, for instance, gives you a prettier skin because you perspire more and the moisture takes away the dryness of winter. It also gives you a flattering, healthy tan.

Warm days allow you to wear light clothing that gives you ease of movement. Most people tend to exercise more in warm weather. It's the ideal time to diet, since the idea of salads and fresh fruit is natural to warm weather anyway.

Then along comes your vacation in which you unwind from the busy winter months and return to job or household feeling renewed, rested and vigorous. Your hairdo is less of a problem since most women favor a shorter cut during summer, one that needs less setting.

THE first really hot day of the year brings with it the temptation to down iced drinks, take a cold shower and eat nothing but cold food.

Resist the temptation. All of these things will make you feel temporarily cool but later on you'll feel warmer than you did before.

Actually, your bathtub is the best place to cool off, but not with a cold shower. A tepid, soapy bath, followed by a tepid rinse under the shower, will keep you feeling cool for hours.

Make good use of dusting powder to ease on girdle and bra. Eat salads, certainly, but don't eat salads alone during the summer months. Your body needs hot foods, too.

And if your doctor has prescribed them, don't neglect vitamins just because it's summertime. They have an effect on the way you feel and look in the heat of the day, too.

THE woman who says she hasn't time for beauty is both throwing away a precious gift and handing herself an afflict at the same time.

What she's really saying is that, of course, she'd like to be beautiful but she's too lazy. It's all too much trouble. And year by year, she destroys what was rightfully hers.

She eats on pound and pounds. She lets her hair become limp and colorless. She dresses carelessly, badly. She doesn't exercise and will do anything to avoid walking a block. And she becomes angry with life for not treating her better.

The fault is hers. Beauty needs to be cared for every day of every year in order to be rewarding.

Underneath a Sweater: This Special-Purpose Bra

This bra, designed particularly for wear with sweaters, has cups covered with a no-seam fabric that eliminates all ridges, seams and stitches. Cups are inner-lined with foam rubber.

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

SWEATERS, jerseys, sheer blouses and silk dresses are all important to fashion this spring. And all of them take particular care in the choice of the bra and slip underneath.

Curves are dandy. But movie star curves don't belong in an office and rarely any place but in a movie. Men who think Jayne Mansfield is the greatest wouldn't dream of hiring her as a secretary.

Keep this in mind, then, when you dress for the office. A cashmere sweater is a lovely thing to own and wear. But under it, put a sweater bra, one that's lined with foam rubber and covered with a seamless, smooth fabric. Wear a full-length slip and preferably one with a camisole top.

In other words, wear a sweater, by all means, but don't wear it as a means of emphasizing curves if you really want to win the approving glances of your co-workers.

If you don't own a sweater bra now, by all means add one or two to your bra collection.

hundreds of tons of loose rock, coal and dirt.

However, air from the other shafts could seep through the porous debris, and rescue workers mounted huge fans in the other tunnels.

Late in the day, after other methods proved unpromising, rescuers started using the huge mining auger—a machine which added the 21-foot-long bits in sequence as the auger went deeper through vein of coal.

The first two attempts with the auger failed when it hit rock. On the second boring, 180 feet deep, workers heard voices.

Two more 21-foot bit sections were rolled in by hand and mounted on the machine for the third boring.

When the drill broke through into the chamber, the trapped men loaded a cloth hat and a piece of lumber into the bit. When they came out at the other end, the rescuers knew they had reached their goal.

The men said they were trapped in a chamber about 8½ feet wide, 10 feet long and 12 feet high.

"I just pray. I knew you guys would reach me," said Kowalski.

Sweet "16"—Chocolate, Too

A 16th birthday is pretty important to most girls—and Nancy Priest, of Washington, D. C., is no exception. The big chocolate "16" on the cake is proof of its importance in the Priest household. Helping out with the candle-lighting ceremony is Nancy's mother, Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, the Treasurer of the United States. Nancy has often been reminded that she shares the same anniversary with the Series E Savings Bond, and it is fitting that her gifts should have included the two U. S. Savings Bonds shown in the lower right-hand corner. Like most girls her age, Nancy is looking forward to college, and her Bonds will come in handy to help out with the expenses. Many thousands of students are in college today because their parents regularly bought Savings Bonds in their names—some for all 16 years.

Nickerson

The "Considerations" blame Wilson's ultimate decision to give the Air Force's Thor priority on Adm. Arthur E. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

While the "Considerations" have been introduced in the court, they have not been read publicly. A brief summary of the contents was disclosed last night by a usually reliable source at Redstone Arsenal.

Nickerson already has been convicted on 15 counts of laxity in handling security information.

The court now is hearing "evidence in mitigation" which might incline them toward a more lenient sentence. If given the maximum punishment, the colonel, a native of Paris, Ky., could be dismissed from the Army and imprisoned for 30 years.

Kiddie Karnival To Be Discussed at Y Tonight

A committee meeting for the Kiddie Karnival will be at the "Y" at 7:15 this evening to complete plans for the Karnival July 4 at Beatty Field from 9 a. m. to 11. It is free and is for kids from 6 to 16.

Over nine different events are planned with a whole series of events for the girls. The committee has received the cooperation of the Hot Stove League and boys. Events will be classed according to the same age grouping and divisions of the Warren Hot Stove League.

Committee members are considering a special feature—a greased pig chase, if further details can be worked out.

Greater details will be published in tomorrow's Times-Mirror.

tions of 13 lawyers for the defense.

The testimony quoted Dist. Atty. Duette Dowling of Dauphin County as asking Paul why he was put in charge of the Manu-Mine operation even though he was not chief engineer.

"Maybe he (Evans) had a special purpose in the back of his mind," was Paul's reply. "I was the man who could, say, he used."

The grand jury testimony also quoted Paul as telling the president of Manu-Mine, Charles W. Stickler, another defendant, that the original price of $14 a foot for drilling mine void filling holes was "too damned high."

Paul testified that Stickler, a nephew of Evans, later submitted a price of $12.50 a foot which was the eventual contract price. He said Evans called that price "all right."

"Frankly I considered that price ($12.50) exorbitant and out of line," Paul said.

This is not a rare specimen (left) of the girl who works in an office. Nor is it much of an exaggeration, unfortunately. Looking as if she has either just come from a party or is just going to one, she is not a figure to inspire confidence in her boss or co-workers. Filmy sandals, a flowing hairdo, an armful of jangling bracelets and flowers in the hair are sights not meant for the office, ever. What happens when this girl (right) streamlines both herself and her handsome office desk for work is evident at a glance. She has simply removed the odds-and-ends from her dress, leaving it handsome and simple. Her hair is worn neatly and becomingly. And she looks both attractive and efficient.

EVERY ITEM A VALUE!

TAKING A CHANCE?—Head keeper Ernest Engler appears to be taking the risk of losing his forearm. He's making a fishy deposit in the gully of a hungry pelican at the zoo in Chessington, England. No harm was done, however, for it's an everyday occurrence as the bird forgets its table manners to get at the juicy tidbits.

ART ROUNDUP—An exhibitor in Rome is putting last minute touches to a collection of plaques and plates. The works of leading Italian craftsmen were exhibited at the 1957 Fair and offered for sale to the public.

FRENCH DRESSING—Lisa Simon, 22, is a study in svelte shapeliness as she waves happily in Paris. The lissome dancer had just won a contest which will make her the French representative at this year's Miss Universe contest which is held annually in Long Beach, Calif.

A FAMILY AFFAIR—A 14-year-old boy stands with his father as they wait for other members of the Algerian army to join them. The 30,000-man Army of Liberation has been battling the French and this photo was taken from the only films ever made of this nationalist army.

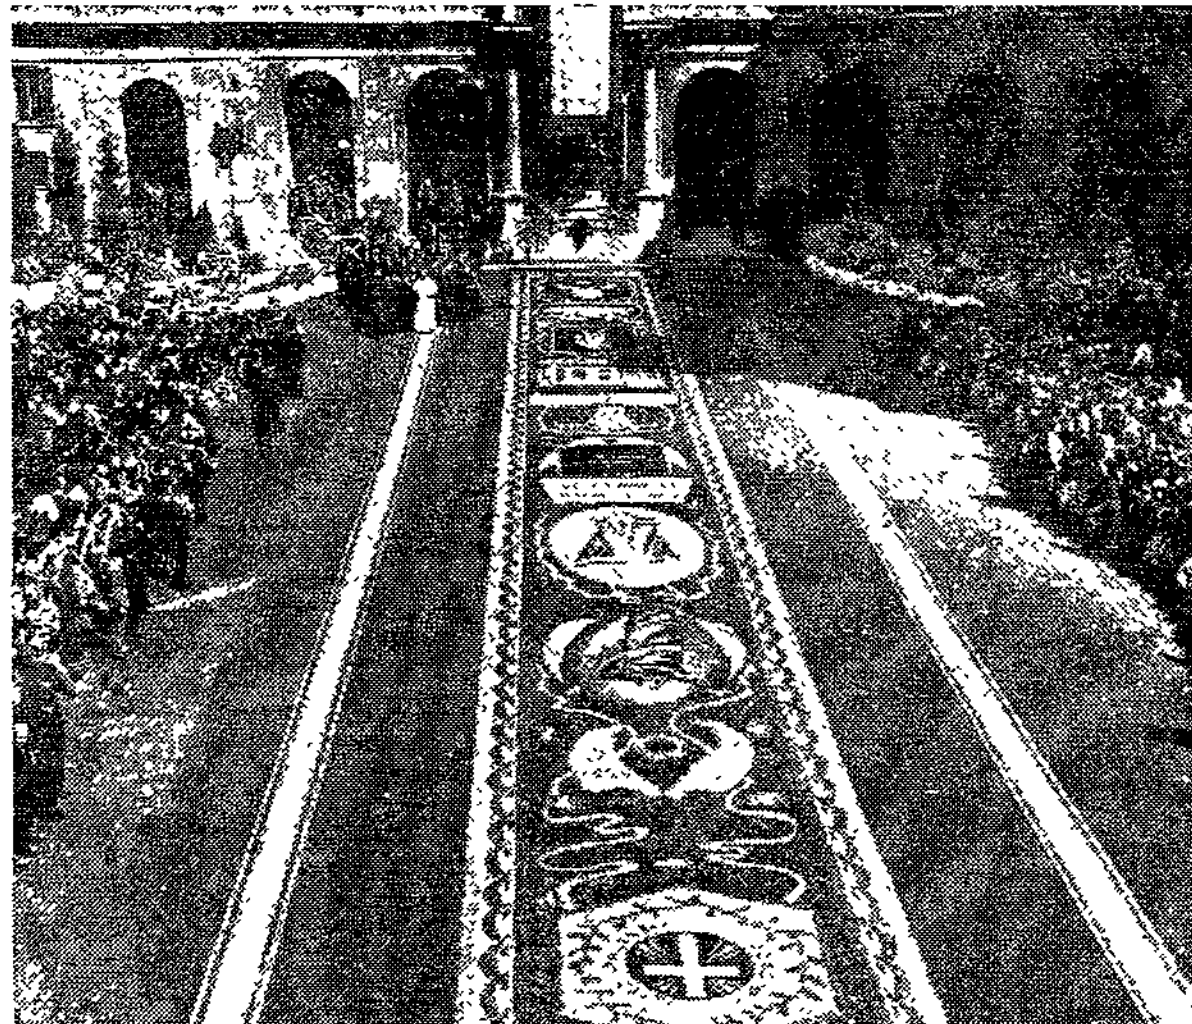

OFF TO A BAD START—Gary Trabant, who's just five, looks like he thinks he should be getting ready for a date in St. Petersburg, Fla. He's whisking dad's razor lightly over his face, but no one would be surprised if his shaving soap turned out to be some tasty whipped cream.

SHELL SHOCKED—Model Pat Matteson doesn't seem to have much appetite for her job in Chicago. She was on hand at a convention of retail grocers to demonstrate the live lobster tank. But it's obvious that Pat would much prefer to have that lobster handed to her on a plate—cooked!

SUMMER NOSTALGIA—The soft, high-piled hair style that Grandma wore when the century was young is playing a return engagement. The new silhouette is achieved by a "fan cut" which waves the hair in a crescent curve atop the forehead. It's very feminine.

PAPAL TRIBUTE—Made entirely of flowers, this intricate carpet is being inspected by Pope Pius XII, in the San Damaso courtyard of St. Peter's Basilica. The floral mosaic was arranged on cobblestones by gardeners of Genzano, a village near Rome.

ROYAL FUN—It seems to be the same as for anyone else as Princess Lalla Amina, center, daughter of the Sultan of Morocco, shares some sand with other youngsters. The three-year-old princess is a student at the Atlas French School in Rabat, Morocco.

ON ITS WAY OUT—From a perch it's had for more than 50 years, the "Musical Lady" overlooks workmen demolishing the dome of the Gaiety Theater in London. The successor to an older theater of the same name, this one was opened in 1903. It's being demolished to make way for an office building.

REMEMBRANCE OF THINGS PAST—The bitter past and the hopeful future are nowhere more apparent than here, in West Berlin. The ruins of the Memorial Church, which are to be left standing just as they are, loom beyond a new and modernly-designed business building. A reconstruction boom is erasing the scars of war from the city as West Berliners work to create an ultra-modern city.

TANKS FOR TRAINING—Female Chinese students, clad in helmets and combat clothes, seem to be enjoying their training as they get some instruction in tank tactics by a Nationalist Chinese soldier in Taipei. About 800 male and female Chinese students from the Philippines and Thailand returned to Formosa for a month's basic military training during vacation.

AN ERA ENDS FOR GODFREY

By DIK KLEINER

New York — (NEA)—There's never much fanfare when an era ends. And so it's quiet and peaceful in Arthur Godfrey's office, the same office that has seen so many exciting press conferences, the office that controlled what was once TV's most popular evening show.

Godfrey's Wednesday night program will end on June 26. He'll still keep on with his morning radio and TV shows, with his Monday night "Talent Scouts" but his big hour-long variety show is finished.

"It's the end of an era for me," says Godfrey. And he leaned back in his chair and puffed on his cigar. He looked around the handsome office, at the airplane models and the framed pictures, like he was looking at the past.

"Yes, sir," he said, "I'm pooped. Every week I'd go home, down to Virginia on Thursday night, shaking. I was so pooped I'd shake. I'd take me until sometime Saturday to get over it. My wife's been after me for three years to give it up. So I'm through."

It's the end of an era. It was in this office that Julius LaRosa was hired. It was up to this office, to the thick beige carpet, that the Mariposa and Marion Marlow and LuAnn Simms and Frank Parker were called. Once, this office hummed with excitement, but now it's quiet. Godfrey picked up a tall glass of orange juice and took a sip. "Being pooped is just part of it. You see, what I want to do on television you can't do at night. I want to show America to America—do live pick-ups from interesting places, the kind of thing 'Wide, Wide World' does only in more detail.

"Well, at night you can't do that. It's dark. I'm going to do that kind of thing on my morning show—going to San Diego, for example, and show what makes the Navy what it is. That's what I think television should do and, by golly, I'm going to do it.

"But you can't do it at night, and you can't do it on film. Cameras take too long—have to get the lights just so and all that.

"What I hope to do is accumulate kinescopes from my morning shows, with lots of outdoor stuff, and every once in a while do an evening show with lots of pieces from the daytime show.

"But no more night variety shows. That's out. I had to be a performer."

The phone rang and Godfrey talked to somebody about a fight. He said he'd prefer to use the Bonanza if they could be airborne before it got dark. Then he got back to the subject of why he was quitting his big show.

"Then there's another problem. You don't know what it's like to be a celebrity. After that show, every Wednesday night, I'd go out of the stage door and every week there was this bunch of nuts—that's what they are, nuts—and I'd have to fight my way through to the car. If I stopped for a red light at the next corner, they'd be there.

"They're just waiting for you to do something. When I'm driving, I have to take it easy, hang back. If I'd cut somebody off, or anything like that, I could hear them yell. There's Godfrey, drunk again."

He's happy to be out of that Wednesday show. He thinks, being on just mornings and the "Talent Scouts" shows, he'll be less bothered.

He took another sip of orange juice, another puff of cigar.

"That show did a lot for a lot of people," he said. "That's my big pleasure, making new stars. We had some pretty good folks on that show."

"And I'll tell you something nobody knows—I never took a dime out of that show. Everything I made I put back into costumes and sets and all that. I put it back to make these people look good, look the best I could.

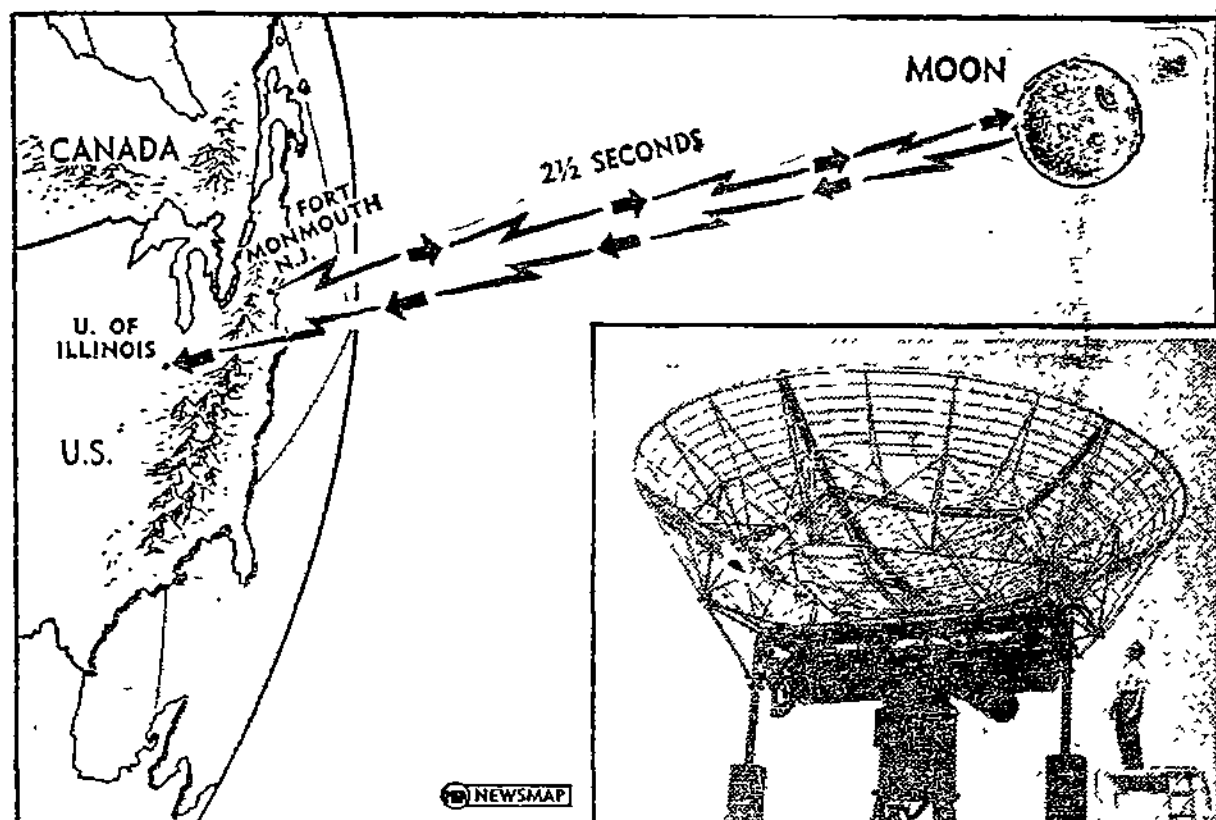

GODFREY IN HIS OFFICE: One hummed with excitement.

"And the only ones who ever thanked me for it were the McGuire Sisters and Jan Davis. That's all. Some of the others—boy! They'd come to me at first and some were very clumsy. So I suggested they take dancing lessons to give them a little grace. They didn't like that. And after they left me, what was the first thing they did? Right, they took dancing lessons. Only then they had to pay for it themselves—I'd paid for them myself before."

And he laughed and shook his head, as though in amazement at the folly of some people. It was good to hear that laugh. It's a healthy laugh, an infectious laugh. It's a laugh that once made millions join in, but from now on, it's sound will be limited. It's the end of an era for Arthur Godfrey—and for television.

PARTY LINE—The man in the moon will be a member of a 500,000-mile "party line" pretty soon. The "line" takes in Ft. Monmouth, N.J., Urbana-Champaign, Ill.—and the moon. Scientists at the University of Illinois and the Army Signal Corps will transmit signals from the Evans Signal Laboratory near Ft. Monmouth and bounce them off the moon for reception at the university. The 2½-second journey will end at the dish-shaped aluminum mesh reflector (insert), which is 28 feet in diameter. The experiments will be conducted in the daytime, as the moon is in the sky for many days. The experiments may pave the way for sending radio and television signals to half the earth at one time by bouncing them off the moon so the return impulses can be received in the Eastern hemisphere. The first "moon-bouncing" experiments were made in 1946.

State Vegetable Prospects Reduced By May Drought

Harrisburg—Dry weather during May and reduced planting took a toll on Pennsylvania spring vegetable production estimates, the State Department of Agriculture said today.

Production estimates announced in a Federal-State survey report show spinach and beet crops will be down from last year, asparagus above last year and the strawberry crop is estimated to be 39 per cent greater, but below average.

The spinach crop on June 1 was reported at 42,000 hundredweight, 10 per cent below 1956 and 71 per cent under the 10-year average. Most of the reduction is claimed because of excessive dry weather.

A reduction of 14,000 hundredweight in beet production is reported for this year, attributed to reduced planting and lower yields per acre.

Although the commercial asparagus crop is forecast at 18,000 hundredweight from 800 acres, approximately the same as in 1956, production is about 31 per cent below average.

Head lettuce harvest is underway in the State and the estimated 40,000 hundredweight production from 350 acres is about five per cent higher than in 1956.

The strawberry harvest will be 19 per cent higher than in 1956, but because of 1,000 fewer acres being planted, production is expected to be about six per cent below average. Production is estimated at four million pounds.

51-INCH RATTLER

Bradford Era: What does a rattlesnake do when it crosses the road? Why it ends up as a curiosity for the children. That's what happened to a 51-inch rattler when it decided to squirm its way across the Corydon Road yesterday morning. Dick Yohe, 23, returning from a swim in Willow Creek, was driving his truck home when he spotted the reptile in the middle of the road. He turned around, went to the nearby home of his brother, Mervin, borrowed his gun, returned and killed the snake which had reached the grass on the side of the road. Rick took the dead snake to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Yohe, 87 Edgewood Road, where it was a special attraction for the kids in the area the rest of the day.

Drink More Milk
During June Is
Plea of Governor

Harrisburg — Increased consumption of milk and other dairy products in recognition of June Dairy Month was urged today by Governor George M. Leader.

He issued the following statement:

"Pennsylvania is one of the greatest dairy states in the Nation. We rank fourth in value of dairy products and fifth in total milk production. For many years we have led all other states in the manufacture of ice cream.

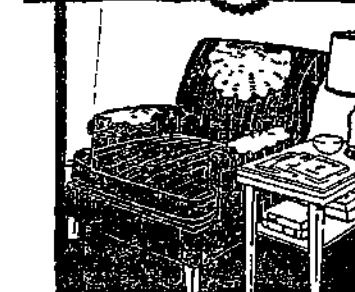

"These achievements are a great tribute to our dairy farmers. In attaining these records they produced last year a new high of 6½ billion pounds of quality milk that had a farm value of $303 million, second highest ever known in the Commonwealth.

"Milk is nature's most perfect food and beverage. Through an expanded milk program in the public schools and my authorization of the sale of flavored milk in the schools, consumption among children has been increasing steadily.

"But with the closing of schools for the summer we face a new problem. Children accustomed to using milk daily at school should be encouraged by parents to continue drinking extra milk at home as a health-giving practice. Milk should be served in adequate amounts at camps for young people, on outings and picnics. Growing children, and adults too, need milk for its exceptional value as a health food.

"June is set aside as Dairy Month in recognition of the untiring efforts of our dairy farmers in producing milk and the labors of those who process and deliver this essential product, and to encourage use of more dairy products throughout the year."

WILLIAMS HELPED AMERICA SEE ITSELF

OUT OUR WAY By Williams

J. R. Williams, creator of "Out Our Way"

Death came to Jim Williams, as it does to every man, but the magnificent thing he created lives on. For he had the gift of human understanding and mellow laughter, and these things are more enduring than a lifetime.

The man whose Out Our Way cartoons endeared him to millions got his start as a world famous comic artist on March 20, 1922, when NEA Service released his first drawing. He died June 17 at Pasadena, Calif.

Before becoming a cartoonist his life had been an almost unbelievable record of adventure and excitement, a saga to make small boys tingle with awe and delight. These are some of the things he had been before he turned artist: college football player, railroad fireman, mule skinner, cowboy, cavalryman, prize fighter, machinist. These were the things that formed the philosophy and background without which there would have been no Out Our Way. They accounted for his rare ability to meet so many different classes of readers on common ground.

Knew Subjects Well
Of the many millions of daily Out Our Way readers, a large share has often wondered what it was specifically about this series of homely human interest drawings that held such charm for them. Perhaps the best explanation lies in the fact that the reader could so readily identify the subject matter with his own experience.

Jim Williams relieved his own life in his cartoons—to a greater degree perhaps than any other artist. His daily procession of Out Our Way contained a cowboy series; a "Worry Wart" series (about kids); a "Why Mothers Get Gray" series; a machine shop series (featuring his old foreman, the "Bull of the Woods"); and an occasional cartoon of the old border cavalry days. He pictured "Life's Longest Minute," "Heroes Are Made — Not Born," "When You'd Love to Live Forever," and "Born Thirty Years Too Soon," the last being a nostalgic recollection of life as it was lived a generation or more ago.

An Expert Craftsman
The homeliness and simplicity of his style often caused his readers to overlook his rare craftsmanship. He had an almost priceless ability to draw animals. He knew them so well that he never needed to look at one to draw it. It was said of him that he knew every muscle in a dog's or horse's body. No matter how comically he pictured them, no matter how strenuous a position he put them in, the anatomy was always correct.

The public knew Williams only as a cartoonist, but he was a many-sided artist with rare talent. He painted beautifully in oil and water colors; he was a superb sculptor and silversmith, he designed and built the finest kind of furniture. He could do anything with his hands.

His Cartoons Collected
And he had a keen understanding of human beings and tolerant eye for their foibles. His cartoons always "struck home". Thousands of his readers kept scrapbooks of Out Our Way drawings clipped from their newspapers.

He had often been called the Will Rogers of the comic pages. He rather liked that, because he was a friend of the famed cowboy writer and stage star and admired him greatly.

His full name was James Robert Williams. He was born in 1888 in Nova Scotia, of parents who had come from England. He was still a baby when his family moved to Detroit. At 14 he was playing football at Mt. Union College in Ohio — and at 15 he was a fireman on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

He Meets the West
"Back in those days," he explained to a biographer, "we didn't have any complicated eligibility rules in college football. I was big and husky and tough, and that's what counted. The scholastic requirements were pretty elastic, too, which was how I got in. I was studying art. At 15, I was full grown. I got tired of school and got a job firing on the Pennsy by passing as 21."

This job didn't hold him long. He headed west and landed in Kansas, where he became a mule skinner. He drifted on and tied up with a cattle outfit. He cooked for the cowhands. He punched cattle. One day, down in Texas, he saw some cavalrymen ride into town and liked their looks. He enlisted and served a three-year hitch.

Career as Fighter
The army polished up another talent in Williams. He became quite a fighter with his fists. He weighed 168, was hard as hickory and just as tough. He won the light heavyweight championship of his outfit and when his enlistment was over he turned professional.

The first fur coat he ever bought for his wife was with a purse he won as a pro. Mrs. Williams made him quit, however, when another fighter smashed his nose. He carried the twisted nose the rest of his days.

GAL 2 FEATURE ARTICLE ...
All the time that Jim Williams was chasing cows and cooking grub around a chuck wagon, all the time he was in the army, he never forgot that some day he wanted to be an artist. While he was in the cavalry he somehow picked up the knack of tattooing and his inherent artistic ability made him pretty good at it. For a price he tattooed lovely pictures on the broad chests and brawny arms of his mates.

But he kept at his drawings, making sketches and throwing them away, striving always to get those pictures down on paper the way he saw them in his mind. He was still at it when he landed a job in a machine shop in Alliance, Ohio. One day he bundled up some of his cartoons and sent them to NEA Service in Cleveland. He was promptly hired—and America has been glad ever since.

Moves to the West
After a few years in Cleveland, Williams moved to Arizona. There he presided over a 45,000-acre ranch near Prescott, a ranch boasting 800 head of cattle, 50 horses, a swimming pool, a concrete tennis court and a lake, all of which, including the lake, Williams built.

He left all this because keeping up the ranch and drawing Out Our Way was one job too many. Besides, his family didn't like ranch life the way Jim did. They persuaded him to move to California, first to a 40-acre place in the San Fernando Valley where he had movie stars as neighbors, next to a more civilized place in San Marino.

He is survived by his wife, Lida, his daughter, Mrs. Carl T. Fanto, and his son, Robert Keith. At his death his cartoons were running in nearly 750 daily newspapers, and more than 300 Sunday papers were carrying his "Out Our Way With the Willets".

One of Jim Williams' early cartoons. The sentiment and the reverence pictured here made it a great favorite. It has been published in several collections of his works.

Colorado's first sugar factory was established in Grand Junction in 1899. Sugar beets are one of Colorado's main crops.

Dry Weather Irritatin'? Try Some Easy Irrigatin'

A canvas hose leaking through its mesh acts as a portable irrigation ditch.

An old golf club—preferably one that has seen a lot of use around water holes—can help slice your sprinkling chores to par.

This is a good example of how almost anything comes in handy around a garden. In the case of the retired golf club, only the shaft is needed. By cutting a twelve inch slit on one side of the shaft, you have easily made yourself a soil moisture tester.

When the improvised tester is pushed into the ground, the hollow center fills with soil. Taken out, the soil shows up damp or dry through the slit. That way, the gardener can quickly tell whether or not his soil is ready for another watering and how much water will be needed. Obviously, old clubs with wooden shafts need not apply for the job.

Just about the time that lawns and gardens start needing water the most, people do, too. This makes for a gardening problem because community officials have a habit of favoring human needs and applying restrictions on the use of water for sprinkling.

When this happens, it helps to know how water behaves in the soil. That way, you can anticipate your plants' and lawns' needs and cater to them with what water is available to you. Quite often, gardeners waste water—turning the sprinkler on for a short time each day even when the water isn't needed or when it isn't penetrating the soil deeply enough.

When water is applied to soil, it goes down, but not far down, even in pure sand. Every soil particle, sand included, attracts to itself a film of moisture which it holds. Not until the particles near the surface are moistened do lower ones get wet, and it takes a heavy application to moisten any soil a foot deep. The smaller the soil particles, the more numerous they are and the more water they attract and hold. Sand being coarse, holds least. One inch of water applied to the surface will wet sand about 14 inches deep; while it takes 2 inches to wet loam, and 3 inches to wet clay the same depth.

There is small lateral movement in the soil. It goes down over the area on which it falls, so for uniform watering it must be spread evenly over the lawn or garden. This requires giving careful attention to your sprinkler to make sure that every part of the surface gets its fair share.

Water does not rise from below to reach garden plant roots in significant amounts, except in the rare locations where the water table is near to the surface. Most gardens in this area depend entirely upon water which falls from above.

Sunshine and hot weather do not dry the soil deeper than two or three inches as a rule. Below that water is held in storage until it is taken by plant roots. These are most numerous near the surface and dry the soil down, growing to follow the moisture as it subsides. Deep watering produces deep roots.

Good irrigation practice applies water in heavy doses, wetting the soil as deeply as practical, then waiting until the stored depth is used by the plants, before irrigating again.

Watering can be timed so that growing plants do not have wet leaves when night falls. This encourages the spread of fungus disease, especially in the vegetable garden. Watering the vegetable garden can be done without wetting leaves by using a canvas hose which leaks and allows the water to spread evenly over the soil surface. Don't hesitate to sprinkle the lawn and flowers when the sun is shining. This does no harm and assists quick drying of the leaves.

Several from here attended the Sunday school picnic of Tidouate Baptist church at Haddon Heights at Oil City Saturday. About 75 were in attendance.

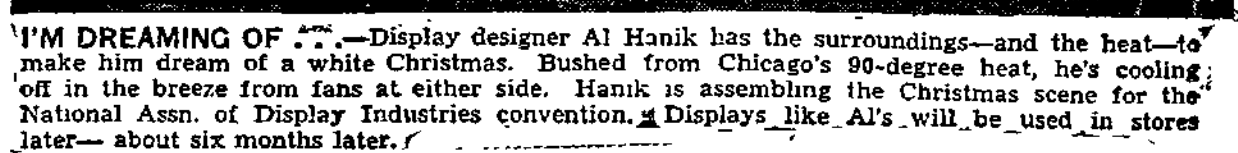

Mrs. Frances Zolko attended a bridal shower for Bernice Jeska at the Garland community hall Sunday. Miss Jeska will marry Peter Leofsky of Garland.

Marie Zolko, Torpedo, Regina Nelson of Pittsfield and Judy Dolphin of Youngsville, all graduates of Youngsville High School, have employment at Warren State Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wagner and daughter, Helen, of Buffalo, have been visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burnel Holmes, Torpedo.

Services were held in Garland Methodist church at 2:30 p. m. Sunday. Communion will be given at 2:30 Sunday, July 7. Willing Workers were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merl Sandrock.

I'M DREAMING OF — Display designer Al Hanik has the surroundings—and the heat—to make him dream of a white Christmas. Bused from Chicago's 90-degree heat, he's cooling off in the breeze from fans at either side. Hanik is assembling the Christmas scene for the National Assn. of Display Industries convention. Displays like Al's will be used in stores later—about six months later.

Jolly John Jr., Brightens The Sheffield Industrial Picture

Kane Republican: Jolly John, Jr. has arrived at nearby Sheffield to brighten the industrial picture as sparkling a debut as ever in wood working plant. Kept under wraps until patents were secured and all production arrangements set, the new "top secret" industrial product now in production at the McMillan Lumber Company has a terrific potential — according to preview reactions.

It's not such a long story. It stems from an idea of William R. Snyder, 57, of Galeton, who followed through with the transition of a day-dream into reality. He confided in a close friend, Michael J. Corsetto, of Galeton, well known through this region as chairman of the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board.

Mr. Corsetto, who was told of the idea developed along a trout stream, fell hook, line and sinker for it. Kane attorney R. J. Hetzner was next and soon Wendell W. McMillan, president of the Sheffield firm which bears his name, was under a long-term contract to start production with a new firm the McMillan Lumber Products corporation, established for manufacturing the product.

It was a demonstration of Jolly John Jr. that really "sold" the product to all who saw it—and its combination of novelty, utility and purpose makes it a natural.

Mr. Snyder displayed a child's training chair, a beautiful piece of furniture in cherry-like many other training chairs—potty and all—but more beautiful. As it was,

Jaycee Mardi Gras Notes

With the announcement by Chairman Owens and Farnick that the champion 40 and 8 Band of Oil City has been engaged to appear in the PARADE on July 6, plans appear complete for the biggest parade in the colorful history of Warren parades. Mr. MG is resigned to riding in the very last division since the list of dignitaries has grown so large that yours truly is only a minor drop in the bucket.

Bleachers began arriving for the RODEO today and Mr. MG has been active at War Memorial Field since early morning preparing for the appearance of the routinest, tightest bunch of cowpokes that ever straddled a corral fence. Tickets continue to go like hotcakes at the WARREN DRUG STORE in downtown Warren, but this weekend will be a good time to purchase yours. Since his Army day, Mr. MG has always hated to stand in line, so I bought my tickets early. Why don't you? Besides the WARREN DRUG STORE is air-conditioned and you'll love the cool interior where "Wyatt" Chodo will gladly fulfill your requests for RODEO TICKETS.

Balloting continues hot and heavy in the Queen's contest, and it is now a toss-up as to which of the five lovely gals will be Miss Mardi Gras for 1957. Mr. MG has had a chance to consider all the various qualifications of each girl and, believe me, I wouldn't be a final judge for anything. Another prize was added to the growing list today when it was announced that the new Queen would dance the first dance with Mr. MG, a thrill no girl could cheerfully refuse.

A reminder to local RETAILERS who are conducting the balloting in their stores. It would be most helpful to the committee if you would separate your own ballots so that when the committee collects them on Saturday, it will be easier for them to count the ballots.

And Sam Donahue arrives on Tuesday in company with Miss America. What a combination. Mr. MG is at a distinct loss as to whom he will shower with lavish attention. At the risk of sounding like a traitor to the male population of the county, he feels that the music of that incomparable Donahue Orchestra is a thing of beauty. Listen to them on WNAE. They will be featured every day until dance time. Then come and dance to them at the Queen's Coronation Ball at Beaty Gym on Tuesday night. Tickets are now on sale at United Cigar and the B&B. Get yours early.

Parade plans, discussed with Parade Coordinator Bill Hesch, indicate that this will also be one of the longest parades in Warren's history. Bill contends that the parade may have to form as far north as North Warren to enable all divisions to get in the line of march. We are recommending seats between Market and Liberty on Pennsylvania avenue, but any seat should be good. Music, girls, floats, and several special features will make this a PARADE TO REMEMBER.

Six Teams Scrapping For Top Spot in the National League; Sox Still Leading in American

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

That "hot" National League pennant race of last year begins to look like a "runaway" compared with what's going on these days, with less than six teams scrapping and no more than 10 percentage points separating the first four.

The whole league exploded under pressure yesterday in what was exciting, if not brilliant, baseball—with 20 home runs, one shy of the major league record for a five-game day, 125 hits and 90 runs

Lence Puts New Rhythm In Boxing Ballyhoo Beat

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—Floyd Patterson's break with the International Boxing Club has brought back the ring's old guard.

Veteran fighters, managers and tub thumpers have come out of the woodwork with Emil Lence's return to the business as promoter of the return Patterson-Hurricane Tommy Jackson heavyweight championship match at the Polo Grounds on July 29.

THE TALL TALES are right with them.

Maybe the facts are out of focus here and there, but the fun stays. The public has been deprived of their amusing anecdotes since the inception of the IBC.

Since the death of Dumb Dan Morgan, there has been no one around the Madison Square Garden offices of Octopus, Inc., with sufficient background to spin them.

James D. Norris practically is an absentee promoter.

Lence has open house for boxing writers and people all day long.

Not since Tex Rickard have there been so many solid boxing men interested in a fight—the kind of fight guys who make the game a big thing. They disappeared as Norris reduced boxing to second-rate television show.

LENCE MAY BE A DRESS MANUFACTURER, but he also knows how to dress up a prize fight.

The little Italian learned in eight years of success at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena, where he developed numerous fighters, Patterson and Jackson among them, until squeezed out of a TV contract.

"Every nickel this match makes goes into the restoration or establishment of small neighborhood clubs," Lence promises.

"I am reopening the Eastern Parkway on a weekly basis in September."

"I don't have to assure you that Cus D'Amato (Patterson's man) is sincere in saying that Floyd will fight for independent promoters throughout the country—men like Sam Silverman in Boston, and Jack Hurley in Seattle—and I will assist them all I can."

As implausible as it may seem, Jack Dempsey has never met Jim Morris, or been invited to be introduced at one of his shows.

The first thing the Old Manassa Man Mauler did was buy a block of tickets for the Patterson-Jackson encore.

ASSISTING LENCE is Tommy Loughran, the Wall Street sugar roker who was the light-heavyweight leader, and Leonard Sachs, who booked Dempsey on tours. Jimmy Bronson is the public relations director. He seconded Gene Tunney against Dempsey.

The publicity director is Ned Brown, the long-time New York sports editor who, like Bronson, has been around the sour scene for more than 50 years.

Moe Fleischer is the matchmaker. He had the famous Ridgewood rove Arena, now a Queens supermarket.

Sam Taub is at Patterson's camp. He broadcast fights for years, sided Bat Masterson, when the renowned former United States marshal out west, headed the sports staff of a New York daily.

With Jackson is Eddie Walker, who managed Chalky Wright, a former feather ruler, and many more.

Emil Lence has put new rhythm in the ballyhoo beat and it is much more tuneful and interesting. The words and music are

Elks and Ludlow To Play Two Games This Weekend

The Warren Elks and Ludlow Wildcats have two games scheduled this weekend, playing at the Warren State Hospital diamond Saturday afternoon starting at two o'clock. Sunday they will renew hostilities at Wildcat Park.

As usual two good games may be expected, for the teams are evenly matched and each has been prepping for these engagements.

Dix Hines had his team out Tuesday night, with a number of late additions, including Dave Lopez, a standby with the club the past couple years.

Rocky Castellani Much Disappointed Over Boyd's Win

Chicago (AP)—Bobby Boyd, his tender jaw rarely in jeopardy, picked his way to a split decision victory over middleweight veteran Rocky Castellani last night and Castellani jeered "I've had better fights in the gym."

Castellani's manager Alvin Naiman held hands akimbo as his 30-year-old fighter cooled off in the dressing room and asked, "What are you supposed to do to win in this town?"

The manager, and Castellani's handlers, called it a "home town" decision and said their gladiator had been gypped.

Boyd did what little pressing there was in the fight, but said it was a role he didn't like. "I'd rather have 'em come to me," he said. There were no knockdowns.

Castellani, the 7-5 underdog from Cleveland, said, "It was the easiest fight I ever had. I could fight tomorrow. I thought I had it all the way. He never hurt me."

In the dressing room next door, Boyd, a 23-year-old Chicago Negro, had nothing but nice words for Castellani. He said his opponent was "one of the smartest fighters I ever fought" and "he's got a good punch."

The 10-round event which was uneventful except for some brief furries in a few rounds, evoked boos from the announced crowd of 1,772 several times.

Philadelphia (AP)—With the mercury dancing around in the 90s these days, football seems as far away as the next pay check, but there's plenty of football talk in the air. The University of Pennsylvania's Bob Paul already is touting his club in a football newsletter. What can we expect from Penn this fall?

"More thrills from a multiple offense fully mastered—more Penn scoring and longer runs than in 1956. Better defense—swashbucklin' backer-up play with the help of newly named assistant coach Chuck Bednarik."

The Gettysburg Bullets also are dreaming of the fall with stars in their eyes. Three backs who accounted for 1,332 yards of a total 1956 Bullet offense of 2,546 yards will be on hand for the 1957 opener against Bucknell Sept. 28. The three are fullback Frank Capitani Hershey and halfback Earl Yost Shippensburg and Don Bailey Camden, N. J. That trio hopes to better the team's 7-2 mark last fall.

And if the above isn't enough to make the Gettysburg coaching staff happy, there comes word that Bill Fitzkee, Manchester High School basketball star for the past three seasons and leading scorer in the York County Scholastic League in his senior year, is entering Gettysburg. Fitzkee, who lives at Mt. Wolfe, will be playing basketball under another former Yorker, Bob Hulton, named this year as head basketball and baseball coach at Gettysburg.

DOWN BUT NOT OUT—Chilean tennis star Luis Ayala takes a tumble on the slippery court in London's Wimbledon Stadium. However, the little South American, unseated in the 71st Wimbledon championship, surprised a rain-soaked crowd by beating America's top-ranked amateur, Ham Richardson, by a score of 3-6, 6-4, 7-5 and 6-4.

Lenny Moore, of Reading, Pa., who topped the National Football League with an average carry of 7.5 yards, has another interest in life. Lenny's a disc jockey during the off football season. He has his own program on a Baltimore radio station, the "Moore with Lenny Show".

We just can't sign this one off without at least one baseball note. Lafayette's 1957 baseball team boasted seven players hitting .300 or better, topped by Charlie Klein, a sophomore from Quakertown, Pa., who had a .397 average. The other six were:

Stu Murray, West Orange, N. J. .362, Al Caesar, Fairfield, Conn. .350, Tommy Morgan, Hedges, Pa. .338, Joe Bozok, Donora, Pa. .315, Jack Slotter, Quakertown, Pa. .311, and Ted Sloan, Philadelphia .308. All but Slotter will be back for more next season.

Philadelphia Fans Are Still Strong For Robin Roberts

Philadelphia, (P)—Phillies fans haven't gone sour on Robin Roberts just because he's having a bad year.

Roberts, once the ace of the Philadelphia pitching staff, has a disappointing 6-9 record. Last year, after six straight 20-game seasons he won "only" 19 games and lost 18.

Robbie has taken a pounding frequently this year. Pitching coach Whit Wyatt has suggested he doesn't have his high hard one any more and must develop another pitch. Manager Mayo Smith has embarrassed Roberts by relieving him when a weak-hitting pitcher was at bat.

So Philadelphia Bulletin columnist Earl and Anne Selby decided to try and give Robbie a lift. In their husband and wife news column, they issued an appeal for the fans to write in and say how they felt about Roberts.

The Selbys said they expected maybe 100 readers would take the time and trouble to write. Within two days more than 1,200 fans sent cards, letters and telegrams. There wasn't one knock against Robbie.

No Dark Horse Favorites In N.C.A.A. Tournament

Colorado Springs, Colo. (P)—The 60th annual NCAA golf championship longed for a dark-horse favorite today.

And chances are there'll be a flock of them when the 32-man field is paired to eight after two rounds on a wind-whipped Broadmoor course that already has taken its toll of early favorites.

The four-day tourney entered its second round today with a natural match between the champion and runner-up of the 1955 NCAA meet.

In the first round yesterday Bill Davidson of Penn State downed Gary Hval, Oregon, 2 and 1, and Ron Schwarzel, Pittsburgh, defeated Tom Johnson, Minnesota, 3 and 2. Dick Burgoon of Franklin and Marshall went down before Harold Sexton of North Texas State, 3 and 2.

WEDNESDAY'S STARS

By The Associated Press

PITCHING—Connie Johnsen, Orioles, allowed only three singles, walked none and struck out four to beat Athletics 1-0 for third consecutive shutout by Oriole staff in duel with Arnie Portocarrero, who also gave just three hits.

HITTING—Dee Fondy, Pirates rapped seven hits in 11 trips, three doubles, to gain 14 points in doubleheader and take league batting lead at .365 as Bucs beat Cubs 15-5, then tied 5-5 in nightcap called after 11 innings because of darkness.

HEAVY TEST—This record-sized, 74-pound, one-ounce halibut gave Paul McDonald and his eight-pound test line a thorough going over before giving in after an hour and a half battle at Coos Bay, Ore.

CEILING HIGH—Joey Giambra appears to be practically hitting the roof jumping rope after his draw with Rory Calhoun. A good fight paved way for a rematch and maintained the Buffalo lad's high ranking among the middleweights.

Pirates Hit Seven Home Runs in Twin Bill at Chicago

Chicago (P)—The Pittsburgh Pirates were back in seventh place today, eight percentage points above the last place Chicago Cubs whom they defeated 15-5 yesterday in the first game of a doubleheader.

The second game was tied 5-5 when it had to be called after 11 innings because of darkness at Wrigley Field, which has no lights. The game will be re-played at a later date.

The Pirates hit seven home runs in the twin bill. Dee Fondy, a former Cub, led the Pirate attack with seven hits in 11 times at bat to boost his batting average to .365, tops in the National League.

The Pirates' 19-hit assault in the first contest included five doubles, two triples and home runs by Frank Thomas, Billy Mazaroski and Roman Mejias.

Pitcher Vernon Law received credit for his fourth victory, against three defeats. The loss went to Tom Poholsky.

Mazaroski clobbered another homer in the second game, and Bill Virdon, Hank Foiles and Bob Skinner also clouted circuit blows. Foiles and Skinner each hit their one-run homers in the ninth inning of the nightcap to send the Pirates ahead 5-3. But the Cubs tied the game in their half of the frame.

Third Base Still Unsettled in the American Lineup

New York (P)—Only third base remained unsettled today on the American League All-Star team with Baltimore's George Kell, Detroit's Reno Bertoia and New York's Gil McDougald contending in the fan vote which ends at midnight.

Kell, the 2,000-hit veteran who has played in six All-Star games, held the lead with 28,430 in the vote count released today by Commissioner Ford Frick's office. Bertoia, hoping to make his first All-Star appearance at St. Louis July 9, was second with 27,399; and McDougald third with 23,482. McDougald has appeared in only one of the classics, as a 1952 pinch hitter.

The only other close contest involves Boston left field Ted Williams and Yankee center fielder Mickey Mantle, both of whom have nailed starting berths but are virtually even in the total vote count. Williams leads with 81,345, just 281 more than Mantle has received.

Congressman Says Brooklyn Has Lost Battle For Bums

By EDMOND LE BRETON

Washington, (P)—Rep. Celler, a Democrat from Brooklyn, said today the borough has lost its battle to keep the Dodgers.

Celler sought for 2 1/2 hours yesterday to pin down Dodger President Walter O'Malley on the Brooklyn baseball club's future. O'Malley was testifying before Celler's House Antitrust subcommittee, which is considering legislation on application of the anti-trust laws to professional sports.

O'Malley said he is not committed to moving the Dodgers to Los Angeles—but that people in that West Coast City are "working very rapidly and very intelligently" to get the National League team there.

He said the Dodgers would stay in Brooklyn if New York City would provide a site for a 50,000-seat stadium as well as a big parking facility. But in almost the next breath, he said, "Time is definitely running out on that." At another point, he said he never had asked New York to build him a stadium or parking lots.
